WHITTAKER'S CHURCHMAN'S ALMANAC.

ALMANAC

AND
CHURCH DIRECTORY

For the Year of our Lord

1875.

New-York:

T. WHITTAKER, PUBLISHER AND BOOKSELLER,

No. 2 BIBLE HOUSE.

PREFACE

IN publishing a List of the Clergy of the Church of the United States, it is a difficult matter to secure entire accuracy, for the reason that there is no body of men who are more liable to change their location from year to year.

The diocesan journals give a corrected list up to the date of meeting of diocesan conventions ; but many changes are frequently made between that time and the publication of the ALMANAC. In order to follow up these changes, the editor is obliged to examine weekly all the church papers, and note accordingly.

He would thank those of the clergy who have sent additional corrections, also the Bishops and Secretaries, for their promptness in sending journals. To the Secretaries of the House of Bishops and Clerical and Lay Deputies, he would return his special thanks for looking over the proof-sheets, and making such changes and corrections as came under their particular knowledge.

Those of the clergy whose names are not spelled correctly, or whose addresses are not properly given, will please forward corrections at their earliest convenience, that mistakes may be obviated in future.

It is with no little pleasure that the editor is able to announce the appearance of even more accurate lists of the clergy of the Dominion of Canada and the Provinces than were given last year. This feature, which is offered in WHITTAKER'S AMERICAN CHURCHMAN'S ALMANAC alone, can not fail to commend itself to the favorable attention of members of the sister churches which were brought, by the reciprocal action of the Provincial Synod and the late General Convention, into such close and amicable relations.

No pains have been spared in countless particulars, and in matters the most minute, to secure a manual of reference which should be at once full and reliable, brought up to the latest moment, and compact.

Gratefully acknowledging the ready patronage accorded to the issue of the past year, the publisher would promise every exertion so to improve the ALMANAC year by year, as to deserve the support of an intelligent and appreciative church public.

If the resurrection be not true, the basis of Christian morality, no less than the basis of Christian theology, is gone. We are not Christians, unless we are clear upon this point. To preach the fact of resurrection was the first function of the Evangelists; to embody the doctrine of the resurrection is the great office of the Church; to learn the meaning of the resurrection is the task not of one age only, but of all.—CANON WESTCOTT.

Life is like the summer's day; and in the first fresh morning we do not realize the noon-day heat, and at noon we do not think of the shadows lengthening across the plain, and of the setting sun, and of the advancing night. Yet to each and all the sunset comes at last; and those who have made most of the day are not unlikely to reflect most bitterly how little they have made of it.—CANON LIDDON.

We are brought as Christians into the open air of God's heaven. The Church is no cunningly elaborated institution, devised to operate with mysterious powers for the saving of a certain number of confiding souls. It is the ideal brotherhood of the children of God, mysterious as nature is mysterious, bound together in Christ, who is at the right hand of God, with the Divine Spirit for its breath of life.—LLEWELYN DAVIES.

Nothing does so establish the mind amidst the rollings and turbulence of present things as both a look above them and a look beyond them; above them, to the steady and good hand by which they are ruled; beyond them, to the sweet and beautiful end to which by that hand they shall be brought.—ABP. Deep, deep within, in that secret place of the heart which no stranger enters, is the true work of God done: he who is never there, he who seldom visits that shrine, he who is a foreigner at home, can make no amends for this ignorance by a familiarity with all besides, by any frequency of outward devotion, or any multiplication of ostensible exertion.—DR. VAUGHAN.

LEAP YEARS.

NOTE.—To ascertain any day of the week in any year of the present century, first look in the table of years for the year required, and under the months are figures which refer to the corresponding figures at the head of the columns of days below. For example: To know what day of the week May 4 will be on in the year 1873, in the table of years look for 1873, and in a parallel line under May is figure 4, which directs to column 4, in which it will be seen that May 4 falls on Sunday.

These are the several departments of the work of the Board of Missions, which Board, as above set forth, acts in behalf of the DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

The following ARTICLES OF THE CONSTITUTION of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church, are of interest in connection with the foregoing :

ART. 11.—For the guidance of the Committees, it is declared that the missionary field is always to be regarded as one—THE WORLD—the terms Domestic and Foreign being understood as terms of locality, adopted for convenience. Domestic Missions are those which are established within, and Foreign Missions are those which are established without, the territory of the United States.

ART. 13.—Associations designated to act in connection with the Board, in the great missionary work committed to the Church, may become auxiliary ; and all contributions specially appropriated for such purpose by such associations, or by any individuals, shall be received and paid in accordance with the expressed wish of the donors.

ART. 15.—It is recommended to every member of the Society to pray to ALMIGHTY God for His blessing upon its designs, under the full conviction that, unless He directs us in all our doings with His most gracious favor, and furthers us with His continual help, we can not reasonably hope to secure suitable persons to act as Missionaries, or expect that their endeavors will be successful.

FORM OF A DEVISE OR BEQUEST TO THE SOCIETY.

I give, devise, or bequeath, to the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, for the use of the Society,

The next Annual Meeting of the Board of Missions will be held in the city of New-York, in October, 1875.
